1.2 Project Background

In November 2019, Catalyst Architects was commissioned by the Australian Government Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA), to deliver this Heritage Photographic Record for the former Australian Red Cross Centre located at Greenslopes, Queensland. This activity is one of several Heritage Management Recommendation arising from the Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland – Heritage Impact Assessment (Catalyst Architects, 2020).

1.2.1 Site Ownership

The ARC Centre buildings, a Recreation Hall and Accommodation Hostel, were originally constructed in 1945 by the Australian Red Cross using donated funds. The buildings were intended to directly support the services of the adjacent DVA managed Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital and when operational, the ARC Centre was staffed by Australian Red Cross volunteers. The DVA Hospital was sold and privatised in 1995.

The site has been legally owned by the Repatriation Commission since 1945 and managed on their behalf by the Department of Veterans' Affairs. The site has been occupied exclusively by the Australian Red Cross since construction of the ARC Centre buildings in 1945. The Red Cross departed the ARC Centre site in 2013 due to ongoing concerns of occupant health and safety from the buildings on the site.

With the DVA Hospital site disposed of in 1995, the now vacant ARC Centre site is considered surplus to the Department's property requirements. DVA has indicated that the option to adaptively reuse the buildings has been considered broadly by DVA but is presently not a favoured option. DVA has general concerns about the likely prohibitive costs involved in both decontaminating and subsequently undertaking all necessary upgrade works to make the hall and hostel buildings compliant with current building Codes and Australian Standards, especially without having an identified site use or established lease.

Detailed site assessments have been commissioned by the Department of Veterans' Affairs between 2013 and 2019 and these have informed available site management options.

1.2.2 Contaminated Land Assessment

Contaminated Land Assessment reports and associated soil sampling undertaken in 2013 and expanded in 2019, identified extensive soil contamination at the site.

- Fragments of asbestos containing materials were found generally in poor condition and lying on the soil surface.
- Soil sampling found heavy metals in the soil including arsenic, cadmium, chromium, copper, lead, zinc and mercury.
- Organochlorine pesticides were found in the soils, well exceeding recommended health levels for residential, commercial and industrial land uses, presenting a high risk to both human health and the environment.

Report recommendations seek site remediation through either soil encapsulation or excavation and off-site disposal to a licensed landfill.

1.2.3 Site Asbestos Management Plan

Site asbestos audits undertaken in 2015 and updated in 2019, found extensive asbestos containing materials throughout the site including roof cladding, external wall cladding, internal wall and ceiling linings, floor coverings, joinery panels, drainage pipes and the like.

Both reports record that the roof cladding is in visibly poor condition, with deteriorated surfaces – it was recommended that this should be removed and replaced. The reports note that whilst the asbestos cement roof surfaces were painted in 2009 (in order to slow their deterioration and extend their effective life), the coating was applied unevenly and therefore limited its effectiveness. Further, since the coating was applied, hailstorm damage has left "hundreds of indentations in the now friable surface layer of the cladding releasing asbestos". The report concludes resealing of the roof sheets is no longer an option and that "the entire site requires remediation and the roof cladding removed" as a priority.

1.2.4 Property Disposal Strategy

A Property Disposal Strategy prepared by commercial property agents Jones Lang Lasalle (JLL) in 2019, concludes that the current risks posed by the contamination issues present at the site, would result in a highly unfavourable commercial outcome and ongoing legal risk to the Commonwealth if the site was to be disposed of prior to site remediation. The Property Disposal Strategy recommends full remediation of site contamination prior to disposal, as the most prudent commercial direction.

1.2.5 Structural Engineering Report

A structural assessment was undertaken in 2019 for all structures at the site. The report concludes that the building structures are generally in sound condition, with select identified structural matters that should be addressed, through undertaking appropriate structural remediation works in order to ensure long-term durability.

1.2.6 Heritage Impact Assessment

The findings of Catalyst Architects' Heritage Impact Assessment, has considered the findings of all past reports and assessed heritage values, along with found condition of the site. The heritage value assessment found that the former Greenslopes ARC Centre does not meet the CHL threshold for historic heritage value in its own right for any of the CHL criterion. Accordingly, proposed disposal actions of the site by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, will not adversely impact on Commonwealth Heritage values under the EPBC Act.

However, the former Greenslopes ARC Centre was found to contribute positively to the broader heritage values associated with the local heritage listed former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital site opposite, albeit the DVA as a Commonwealth agency, has no legal responsibility to consider any impacts of its proposed disposal actions in respect to Local Heritage Listings.

The Heritage Impact Assessment supports proposed demolition of the former Greenslopes ARC Centre Recreation Hall and Accommodation Hostel buildings, associated site remediation works and subsequent site disposal, as a reasonable action when taking into account site context and assessed heritage values. Proposed actions are subject to meeting a number of stipulated heritage management conditions. This Heritage Photographic Record satisfies one of the nominated heritage management conditions.

1.3 Project Purpose

This project seeks to manage potential adverse impact to heritage values associated with the proposed demolition, site remediation and disposal of the former Greenslopes ARC Centre site, by delivering the following Heritage Management Recommendation, as outlined within the Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland – Heritage Impact Assessment:

Heritage Management Recommendation #1: Photographic Record

Prior to any site works commencing, prepare a Photographic Record of the Greenslopes ARC Centre site, capturing current found condition of the Recreation Hall, Accommodation Hostel and the site setting / context. This is necessary to record the found condition prior to any change at the site. The record shall meet best-practice heritage guidelines.

The record should include high quality ground-based photographs and ideally aerial oblique photographic capture, undertaken from either an aircraft or a drone. The record should include a site scaled survey drawing, recording the footprint of the buildings on the site, along with their elevation details.

The Photographic Record should be made publicly accessible for future research purposes, by being lodged by the DVA with the local Council library, State Library of Queensland and the Australian Red Cross headquarters in Brisbane.

2.2 History Overview

In the early phase of WWII, the Australian Government committed to constructing new purpose-built military run hospitals to support Defence personnel - one in each mainland State. In Brisbane, a site at Greenslopes was selected and in February 1942, the Greenslopes General (Military) Hospital was officially opened. Run by the Department of Defence, the hospital provided medical, surgical and psychiatric care for military personnel during the war and in all subsequent conflicts. In 1947 with WWII ended, the Repatriation Commission (Department of Veterans' Affairs) took over management of the facility and it was renamed the Greenslopes Repatriation General Hospital. In 1995 the site was sold to Ramsay Healthcare, a private hospital operator.

During WWII the Australian Red Cross (ARC) was operating as a volunteer organisation, providing medical care and general support to meet the needs of defence force personnel and war veterans, including the provision of "Recreation Huts" at all of the newly constructed military hospitals. Following the opening of the Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital, the Australian Red Cross was granted approval to utilise three allotments of land (the subject site) to construct the current Recreation Hall and Accommodation Hostel buildings on. The selected site was adjacent the hospital on the corner of Newdegate Street and Headfort Street. The land was held by the Australian Government Repatriation Commission and they remain the current registered owner for the site today.

The Recreation Hall and Accommodation Hostel were built by the Australian Red Cross using funds raised through their volunteer efforts. The buildings were opened in early 1946, shortly after the conclusion of WWII. Their purpose was to assist in providing entertainment and practical support to service personnel cared for at the adjacent Greenslopes General (Military) Hospital. The centre was staffed by Australian Red Cross volunteers, and was initially established as a venue for films, dances, concerts, billiards, library services, handicraft and rest rooms. Whilst functions of the site evolved and changed over time, the Australian Red Cross remained at the site up until their departure in 2013, citing that the poor condition and contamination concerns presented by the buildings was an OHSW risk for their ongoing occupation of the site.

2.3 Statement of Heritage Value

The Heritage Impact Assessment (Catalyst Architects, 2020), assessed the former Greenslopes Australian Red Cross Centre against Commonwealth Heritage criteria for historic heritage values under the EPBC Act. The assessment of significance found:

- The former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital opposite (established in 1942 as the Greenslopes General Military Hospital) holds important heritage values. This site was sold by the Repatriation Commission in 1995, to a private hospital operator. As the property is no longer in Commonwealth ownership or control, the EPBC Act does not apply. The heritage values associated with the former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital are currently protected through the site's entry in the Brisbane City Council Local Heritage Register, with various WWII hospital structures retained on-site.
- The former Greenslopes ARC Centre does not hold heritage values as an individual site, when assessed against CHL criteria. It was found that the heritage values would be insufficient to meet the CHL threshold for significant historic heritage value. However the Greenslopes ARC Centre buildings were found to contribute positively to the heritage values associated with the historically significant former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital site for which it was originally established to support.
- The former Greenslopes ARC Centre has associational heritage values, owing to its role and connection with the historically significant former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital opposite, that it serviced from the ARC Centre opening in 1946 up until its closure in 2013. The former Greenslopes ARC Centre associational heritage values are confirmed as follows:
 - Criterion (a) - Historic Defining Events / Processes: The former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital was established during WWII as Brisbane's largest purpose-built military medical facility and its provision of high-quality medical services and repatriation care to military personnel in both wartime and peace over more than 50-years is significant. The Greenslopes ARC Centre provided vital services in support of the hospitals' repatriation role.

- Criterion (g) - Social Value: The former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital holds special association felt by the many veterans who served in WWI, WWII and all subsequent Australian conflicts and received care and repatriation services from the Hospital over more than a 50-year period. The Greenslopes ARC Centre was a place of recreation, that would have strengthened social connections amongst the veteran patients of the hospital.
- Criterion (h) - Associational Value: From its opening during WWII in 1942, the Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital holds special association with the work of the Australian Red Cross and its many volunteers who served without reward in support of the hospitals' medical care and repatriation mission to countless Australian veteran's. The Red Cross services developed were innovative and designed to assist with the reintegration of veteran's back into society. Much of this work was pioneering in its nature. The Greenslopes ARC Centre illustrates the practical nature of the contribution by the Australian Red Cross in the broader context of the Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital.

In summary, the former Greenslopes ARC Centre site does not possess heritage values sufficient to meet Commonwealth Heritage List criteria under the EPBC Act. Accordingly, proposed disposal actions of the site by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, will not adversely impact on Commonwealth Heritage values under the EPBC Act.

However, the former Greenslopes ARC Centre does contribute positively to broader heritage values associated with the historically significant former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital site opposite. Heritage values for this now privately-owned hospital site are protected through its entry in the Brisbane City Council Local Heritage Register. However, DVA as a Commonwealth agency, has no legal responsibility to consider any impacts of its proposed disposal actions in respect to Local Heritage Listings.

It is recommended that the DVA adopt a cautious heritage management approach in respect to proposed disposal actions for the Greenslopes ARC Centre. It would be prudent to mitigate (in good faith) any potential adverse heritage impacts on the historically significant former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital site, even though there exists no legal obligation for DVA to do so.

2.4 Heritage Management Recommendations

The Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland – Heritage Impact Assessment (Catalyst Architects, 14 September 2020) identified the following Heritage Management Mitigation Measures, be adopted in respect to a proposed demolition of the Greenslopes ARC Centre Recreation Hall and Accommodation Hostel buildings and associated site remediation works and subsequent site disposal:

#1. Heritage Photographic Record

Prior to any site works commencing, prepare a Heritage Photographic Record of the Greenslopes ARC Centre site, capturing current found condition of the Recreation Hall, Accommodation Hostel and the site setting / context. This is necessary to record the found condition prior to any change at the site. The record shall meet best-practice heritage guidelines.²¹

The record should include high quality ground-based photographs and ideally aerial oblique photographic capture, undertaken from either an aircraft or a drone. The record should include a site scaled survey drawing, recording the footprint of the buildings on the site, along with elevation details.

The entire Heritage Photographic Record (report and all image files) should be made publicly accessible for future research purposes. In addition to the DVA retaining a copy, the record should be offered to the local Council, the State Library of Queensland and the Red Cross headquarters in Brisbane.

¹ NSW Heritage Council of NSW, Photographic Recording of Heritage Items Using Film or Digital Capture (2006). Noting also that the WA State Heritage Office, Guide to Preparing an Archival Record (March 2012) and the QLD Department of Environment and Heritage Protection, Archival Recording of Heritage Places (2013) provide useful information to guide the preparation of Heritage Photographic Records.

#2. Recover Missing Elements

Every attempt should be made to recover the following presently missing elements, that are important in transmitting understanding of the earlier uses for this site:

- a. "Australian Red Cross Centre" lettering, originally pinned to west façade of the Recreation Hall building;
- b. Building plaque, originally inset in the western brick entry porch column of the Recreation Hall building;
- c. The cross forming part of the "Red Cross" insignia, set within the metal handrailing of the western entry porch of the Recreation Hall building.

If found, these important interpretive elements should be safely stored in a low-corrosion environment (indoors) to preserve them for potential re-installation and / or interpretation to be guided by the findings of a site Interpretation Strategy.

#3. Salvage Select Built Elements

Should building demolition works proceed prior to the completion of a site Interpretation Strategy, then the following built elements shall be retained insitu and made safe in a manner that will not diminish their integrity for future interpretation purposes:

- South-west corner site entry brick pillars, with associated wrought iron elements;
- Pedimented brick and concrete porch west façade, with associated metal handrailing and integrated "Red Cross" insignia.

Seek heritage architect direction to guide make-safe works. A decision on how all retained built elements are included in future site interpretative initiatives (retained, modified, subsequently demolished), shall be guided by the findings of a Heritage Interpretation Strategy.

#4. Heritage Interpretation Strategy

Prepare a site Heritage Interpretation Strategy for the former Greenslopes Australian Red Cross Centre site, to transmit an understanding of the history of the place, including the buildings and past activities. Also include an understanding of the heritage values of the former Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital site opposite and the associations of the former ARC Centre site with the former hospital.

The Heritage Interpretive Strategy must result in interpretive outcomes being realised at the site, presenting the stories in a tangible and practical manner, as well as possible off-site interpretation initiatives. The Strategy shall determine the optimum communication medium(s), location, target audience and key themes to be communicated. The Strategy should be prepared, cognisant of proposed future site use.

#5. Establish a Compatible Future Use for the Site

As part of a proposed site disposal process, careful consideration shall be given to ensuring (as far as practical) that a future site use is established that will ensure an ongoing and compatible use for this site, in a manner that is sympathetic to site Local Heritage values.

Whilst future site adaptive reuse options are not yet known, priority should be given to uses that will respect and promote the original philanthropic spirit established by the Australian Red Cross in its historical use of this site. The following Guiding Principles apply:

- Future site use should richly benefit the wider community.
- Future site use should actively promote / transmit an understanding of the site history, guided by a Heritage Interpretation Strategy.

#6. Heritage Protection

The site is entered on the Brisbane City Council Local Heritage Register and should disposal result in the site ownership passing to an entity that is not a Commonwealth or Queensland State Government agency, then local heritage management obligations under the existing Brisbane City Council Local Heritage listing will become legally binding for a new owner.

As part of the Commonwealth proposed disposal of the former Greenslopes Australian Red Cross Centre site, consultation should be held with the Brisbane City Council, providing the Heritage Impact Assessment findings for their information. Council input and feedback should be sought (in good faith) to inform the site disposal process, with a view to ensuring local heritage values are effectively managed, cognisant of the other Heritage Management Recommendations.

A heritage management covenant should be established by the DVA as part of a site disposal / sale contract, ensuring the ongoing protection and interpretation of the Local Heritage values of the site (once it is out of Commonwealth ownership) and ensuring compatible future site use options are achieved for the site, in accordance with Heritage Management Recommendation #5.

#7. Archaeological Protocol

Adopt the following Archaeological protocol during any demolition, site remediation and other general works at the site:

Archaeological Chance-Find Protocol for Construction Contract

Former ARC Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland

Archaeological remains are any remains of any past human activities at a site. This can include, but is not limited to:

- Early building remains (foundations, bricks, worked stones and the like);
- Evidence of early farming activities;
- Evidence of early European occupation through artefacts (pottery, coins, bottles, buttons and like);
- Evidence of indigenous land occupation (including historic human burial remains, tools and like).

Proposed site demolition and decontamination works will involve site excavations that have potential to disturb areas of archaeological sensitivity. An assessment of potential to impact archaeological deposits has been undertaken for the subject site and the likelihood of disturbance is low.

There is no known development of the site when it was purchased by the War Service Homes Commission in 1919, prior to its acquisition as part of the Greenslopes General Military Hospital site holding in 1945. Site use prior to its 1919 Government acquisition, is believed to have been passive farming use in possession of the Stephens' family.

Nonetheless, should site works reveal any archaeological remains, works shall immediately cease, without causing alteration or damage to the archaeological finds. The archaeological finds are to be suitably protected (from theft, vandalism and effects of weather / erosion). Notify immediately in writing the Department of Veteran Affairs contract representative, providing details of the finds and seek direction. All finds remain the property of the Department.

Depending on the nature of the archaeological finds, other groups, authorities and professional inputs may need to be sought. Consultation may be necessary with indigenous land custodians and archaeological professionals to interpret, manage and record the finds.

3.1 Task Aim

In accordance with recommendations of the Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland – Heritage Impact Assessment (Catalyst Architects, 2020), this project delivers:

#1. Heritage Photographic Record

Prior to any site works commencing, prepare a Heritage Photographic Record of the Greenslopes ARC Centre site, capturing current found condition of the Recreation Hall, Accommodation Hostel and the site setting / context. This is necessary to record the found condition prior to any change at the site. The record shall meet best-practice heritage guidelines.

The record should include high quality ground-based photographs and ideally aerial oblique photographic capture, undertaken from either an aircraft or a drone. The record should include a site scaled survey drawing, recording the footprint of the buildings on the site, along with their elevation details.

The entire Heritage Photographic Record (report and all image files) should be made publicly accessible for future research purposes. In addition to the DVA retaining a copy, the record should be offered to the local Council, the State Library of Queensland and the Red Cross headquarters in Brisbane.

3.2 Task Scope

This Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland - Heritage Photographic Record is informed by the following guidance document:

- NSW Office of Environment and Heritage “Photographic Recording of Heritage Items Using Film or Digital Capture” 2006. <http://www.environment.nsw.gov.au/heritage/publications/index.htm>

The following buildings are included in the image capture for this Heritage Photographic Record:

Building Name	Original Use of Asset	Period	Construction Date
ARC Centre Greenslopes
Hostel	Accommodation Hostel	WWII	1945
Hall	Recreation Hall	WWII	1945

Feature Images - Cloud 9 Creative

Cloud 9 Creative are professional lifestyle photography and videography experts. The images captured by Cloud 9 Creative are intended to feature prominently in future interpretive initiatives (refer Folder A and Folder B).

Archival Images – Catalyst Architects

Catalyst Architects are built heritage consultants and have delivered the archival quality images of the former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland and associated context. Both colour and black & white formats have been captured. The images are intended to provide a methodical capture of the former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes structures in elevation and detail, recording all elements and the setting. Black and white images provide clearer contrast and rendition of building detail.

All captured images provide a permanent historical record to inform future research and understanding in respect to the former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes (refer Folder C and Folder D).

Historical Images – Various Sources

Historical images were found as part of the research undertaken in delivering the Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland – Heritage Impact Assessment (Catalyst Architects, 2020). All relevant images have been included within the Heritage Photographic Record at highest available resolution. A range of sources populated the historical image capture, with the majority from the Australian Red Cross Archives (refer Folder E).

Survey Drawing – Bennett + Bennett Surveyors

Bennett + Bennett are licensed surveyors and were commissioned by Catalyst Architects to deliver a measured survey drawing for the Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland (refer Folder F).

Reference Drawing – Catalyst Architects

Reference Drawings have been produced and are included at Folder G. These are intended to assist with referencing specific rooms in both the Hostel and Hall buildings, when viewing all photographs included in Folders A – D.

3.3 Methodology for Image Capture

Photographic capture techniques adopted for this Heritage Photographic Record, include:

- Ground based photography.
- Drone aerial oblique photography at 5m to 120m height.

DJI Inspire 1 Pro Drone, with Zenmuse X5 camera

Equipment

The following capture equipment was utilised for this archival recording task:

Folder A – Ground Feature Images (Cloud 9 Creative)

- Canon EOS 5DS Mark III camera with 16-35mm Canon Lens, 24-105mm Canon Lens and 70-200mm Canon lens.

Folder B – Drone Feature Images (Cloud 9 Creative)

- Drone equipment utilised - DJI Inspire 1 (Model FC6520), with Zenmuse X5 gimbal camera;

Folder C – Ground Archival Images – Colour (Catalyst Architects)

- Olympus OM-D E-M10 MKII camera, with 14-150mm Olympus lens.

Folder D – Ground Images – Black & White (Catalyst Architects)

- Olympus OM-D E-M10 MKII camera, with 14-150mm Olympus lens.

On-Site Activity

- All drone and ground based activities were undertaken on 21 November 2019.
- Prior to accessing the site, an OHSW induction was undertaken by all project team members.
- All photographs were captured during generally fine weather, ensuring the highest level of clarity for the subject of each image.
- It is noted that there were significant bushfire events taking place during this time throughout Australia and Queensland. In some images, an abnormal coloured sky is visible – this is from smoke colouration in the air.

Image Format

- Photographic Record image files are included in Folders A, B, C, D and E. Included in each folder is a contact sheet, illustrating each image for quick reference.
- Each captured image is provided in high-quality resolution that allows sufficient magnification to perceive detail.
- Professional photographs in Folder A and Folder B also include lower resolution versions of the same images, providing a more manageable version for transmitting electronically.
- Each photographic image is saved in JPEG (Joint Photographic Expert Group) format. JPEG remains the most universally used imaging format, ensuring it will remain supported for the foreseeable future and stores at smaller file size than any other format, with no appreciable loss of image quality for purposes of an archival photographic record. It can be readily converted to other file formats (e.g. TIFF, PDF) if desired.
- Each image is saved as a separate individual file to ensure electronic storage stability is maximised and to provide optimum flexibility of future use, access and transmission.
- Each image file has been labeled as per Section 3.4 – Image Naming Protocol.

3.4 Recommended Storage Repository

It is recommended that this Former Australian Red Cross Centre, Greenslopes, Queensland - Heritage Photographic Record, be lodged with the following repositories to assist in making it publicly accessible in the short-term and to aid retention of the files and content long-term.

Minimum Repository Lodgement

The following storage repository options are recommended as a minimum:

1. Brisbane City Council to be offered all image files for inclusion in their image library collection.
2. State Library of Queensland to be offered all image files for inclusion in their image library collection.
3. Australian Red Cross Headquarters in Brisbane to be offered all image files for inclusion in their image library collection.

3.5 Image Naming Protocol

A naming protocol has been applied to each image file, with the format intended to describe all key attributes of the contained context. This naming protocol ensures that individual images maintain a level of understanding and integrity without having to be connected with a master schedule or list (refer Figure 03).

The naming protocol intent is that an intuitive understanding for each item is achieved, should individual images ever be separated from the Heritage Photographic Record. This naming protocol also creates a meaningful order and grouping for similar images.

Image Files

The following naming protocol format was applied to each image file (refer Folders A - D):

Date Image Taken | Site Location | Building Name | View (External / Internal / Drone)* | Orientation | Description | Image No.

* Note: Floor plan reference included for all internal images - refer Folder G: Reference Drawings.
